

Printed by Igor Cerny
Electronic Mail Message

Date: 25-Feb-1999 02:51pm
From: Don
cjskye@azstarnet.com
Dept: 1620 '99 MAR 24 P2:11
Tel No:

TO: CERNY ( CERNY@A1 )

Subject: Availability of 4-Aminopyridine, (4-AP)

MIME-Version: 1.0
Content-type: text/enriched; charset=US-ASCII
Content-transfer-encoding: 7BIT

<color><param>0100,0100,0100</param>Good afternoon.

I know you are busy so I will get right to my question. Thank You.

Is it possible to have a compounding pharmacy provide PRIMARY-
PROGRESSIVE, HEAT SENSITIVE, folks with severe multiple sclerosis
the life saving compound commonly known as 4-AP?

I cannot convince my neurologist to prescribe. Is there any other way?

I desperately need the fatigue fighting benefits that 4AP does give more than 10,000 current ms patients! My problem: My neurologist will not even discuss the option with me. Her Reason: 4-AP is not FDA approved.

Although others with ms are prescribed the 4-AP compound, those of us who are not given a chance to have any quality of life sit in our homes with no hope. I'm not looking for pity.....Just a fighting chance. Thank you for your reply.

I see the previously scheduled PCAC meeting has been cancelled. I'm very sorry.

Very Sincerely,

Donald Watkins

Tucson, AZ.

<nofill>
FAX: (520)749-8601
My Email Client Is "Pegasus"

98N-0182

C103